SANTA BARBARA RISES PROUDLY FROM RUINS

SEEKS TO RESTORE ITS ARCHITECTURAL MAGNIFICENCE

BACKED BY PROFFERED AID
FROM A SYMPATHETIC
NATION

WILL ERECT A NEWER AND GREATER "CITY OF DREAMS"

(By United Press)
Santa Barbara, July 1.—Quake
ravaged Santa Barbara rose proudly
from its ruins today and started
erection of its architectural beauty
and magnificence.

Backed by millions of dollars in
proffered aid from a sympathetic nation and the generous gifts of its
wealthy citizens, the herculean effort to wipe away its wreckage and
erect a newer and greater "city of dreams" was begun.

The tremors which shook into
ruined heaps of brick and mortar
the 18th century Mission and modern edifices that were Santa Barbara's pride, apparently had ceased
today and through the ruins, the city's pride reassured itself in work
of reconstruction.

With a respite of more than 12
hours since the last shock was felt,
the energies and efforts of the city
administration turned today from
relief work and vigilance to gather
contributions for the rebuilding of Santa Barbara.

The most recent tremor was that of 6:44 P. M. Tuesday, after which the worried citizens of this resort
city by the sea were able to pass the
night undisturbed.

An appraisal of insurance under-
writers placed the total property
loss here at $30,000,000. Only $1,- 000,000 of this was protected by insurance.

There is no looting or pilfering.
A milkman driving away from a
Catholic church with empty bottles
lead to a remark that a man had
been seen removing vessels from the church and this was discounted into
a report of looting.

San Francisco which suffered a similar fate followed by a disastrous fire 19 years ago sent $50,000 for immediate relief. Other cities sent large sums. William Gibbs McAdoo gave $25,000. Wrecking crews and gangs of workers attacked the debris
scattered by the heavier quakes of Monday and Tuesday morning, and
it was estimated that State Street,
running through the heart of the
business section, would be open to traffic in a few days.

PERSONAL INJURY CASES AGAINST STATE

(By United Press)
St. Paul, July 1.—Personal injury
and other claims against the State of Minnesota, are being reviewed for payment today, according to an announcement by Ray P. Chase state
auditor.

Payment of claims allowed by the last session of the legislature was no possible until today because of the lack of funds due to the re-organization of the state government, Auditor
Chase said.

Some time will probably be consumed in the arranging and analyzing of the bills before they are finally paid, it was indicated.

U. S. to Call Conference of Powers in China

TURNS ON GAS, MILL CITY WOMAN FOUND DEAD AT HOME

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, July 1.—Returning
from a party early today, Mrs.
Irene Johnson turned on the gas
in her kitchen. Her body was found later by her husband, Clarence Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson refused to permit
her husband to accompany her
home from the party. Domestic trouble was believed responsible
for the act.

PRESIDENT IS HUMAN LIKE REST OF US

HELD UP BY WOMAN TOLL COL-
LECTOR AND PAID 15
CENTS

REPEATEDLY LOST ROAD, ALSO
"CALLED DOWN" BY A
COP

(By United Press)
Swampscott, Mass., July 1.—The president and Mrs. Coolidge were back at the summer White House
here today hoping to resume the vacation routine which was interrupted Sunday when they were forced to hurry to Plymouth to the bedside of
Col. Coolidge.

The return of Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge to Swampscott by motor yesterday was as filled with amusing incidents as when they dashed north-
ward was filled with drama.

The president was held up by a woman toll collector and forced to disgorge 15 cents before continuing.

He ate a frugal lunch at a country roadside inn. Repeatedly he lost the road and was compelled to retrace his way in search of the right route. The final blow came when stopping at a street corner in Lowell, Mass., to inquire the route
to Salem, a burly policeman stepped
up and growled, "You can't stop
here—move along."

Though the president left his
cramped quarters in his old home
at Plymouth firm in the belief that his father was so far improved as
to be out of danger, White Court
will be kept in close and constant
touch with the sickroom.

Mr. Coolidge intends to keep his engagement to speak Friday at Cambridge at the 150th anniversary of
the arrival of George Washington to assume command of the continental
army, but it is unlikely he will make
any other engagements which might
interfere with his ability to leave
suddenly for Plymouth.

GIRL DASHED OVER A CLIFF

MIDWAY, VIOLA BOOS CLUNG TO TREE AND WAS RESCUED

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, July 1.—Firemen
saved Viola Boos from possible death
late yesterday by dragging her body
to safety from the branch of a tree
suspended midway in the side of a 100-foot cliff overlooking the Mississippi river. Miss Boos missed her footing at the top of the cliff and plunged half way down the embankment before grasping the protruding branch. Her cries for help were heard by passing motorists who summoned firemen.

GRANTED NEW TRIAL ON SERIOUS CHARGE PRESSED

(By United Press)
Pierre, S. D., July 1.—A. J. Ferguson, 68, who was convicted of manslaughter charges following the killing of his wife in Hand county has been granted a new trial by the state supreme court.

JACKSON HOLE REGION MENACED BY LANDSLIDE

CRACK EXTENDS SEVERAL MILES
OVER SHEEP MOUN-TAIN

ALL LIVESTOCK IN THE REGION
DRIVEN TO SAFER
GROUND

(By United Press)
Jackson, Wyo., July 1.—The Jack-
son Hole region near here was prepared today for a third and largest
landslide—a crack extending several miles over the north end of Sheep
Mountain had widened considerably
today under the steady beat of a
heavy rain for the last two days.

William Harris, telegraph operat-
or in the isolated region, said the
slide may come today or it may not
come for years.

Meantime, precautions have been taken to prevent loss of life should
the slide occur. All livestock in the region has been driven to safer
ground.

The firms, most of which are lo-

announced they would not plead guilty and will be arraigned at a single out the best bids.

SHENANDOAH IN ST. PAUL TUESDAY

DIRIGIBLE WILL CRUISE FROM MAINE DIRECTLY TO
ST. PAUL

St. Paul, July 1.—The Shenandoah,
leviathan of the air, is expected to put in at St. Paul early next week.

While no definite day for its arrival is announced officially by the navy department, it is believed that
the Shenandoah will arrive at Wold-Chamberlain field probably Tuesday
morning. Officials in charge of navy
recruiting here are in receipt of word
from Lieut. H. V. Wiley, shore pilot
of the Los Angeles and for the Shenandoah, that the huge aircraft will leave for Maine on Friday and that it will make the St. Paul trip from Bar Harbor.

A change in route is contemplated.
It is planned to leave the Maine coast
and come direct to St. Paul. Originally it was planned to have the Shenandoah back track to Lakehurst base
and then cruise to Cleveland, St.
Louis and north to St. Paul.

The Shenandoah, while of slightly
smaller cubic displacement, is appreciably longer than the Los Angeles, which was scheduled to make the St. Paul trip originally. The Shenandoah was designed in Germany, but was reconditioned and rebuilt at the Philadelphia air naval base.

$1,000,000 TRUNK HIGHWAY CONTRACTS TO BE LET SOON

(By United Press)

approximately $1,000,000 trunk highway improvements will be awarded within the next few days
by C. M. Babcock, state highway followed immediately by the contract awards.

The work to be done represents the third section of Minnesota's highway improvement program.

U. S. HAS VERY NICE SURPLUS, $265,000,000

UNEXPECTED PROFIT MEANS A
FURTHER TAX REDUC-TION

MAY CUT PRESENT BILL OF TAX-PAYER 50 PER CENT

(By United Press)
Washington, July 1.—The United States government's biggest business
interest in the world closed its books
today for the fiscal year 1925 with a surplus of about $265,000,000.

This unexpected profit means that more than $600,000,000 may be
ready for the next tax reduction
schedule to be worked out for the winter congress.

Only $300,000,000 was available
last year when congress slashed off
25 per cent of the bill. The new figures for this fiscal year and estimates for the one ending next June 30th indicate that twice that amount
will be available for the new cut.

If the ordinary policy of permitting all the surplus to be used for
tax reduction, the present bill of the taxpayer will be cut down about 50
per cent.

But that is not the present scheme.
Officials of the treasury department and administration leaders on Capitol Hill believe that not more than $300,000,000 or $400,000,000
should be used for tax reduction
purposes. Many governmental improvements are needed and a new
and costly building program may be
put through.

WASHINGTON ARMS CON-FERENCE

MINSTER MacMURRAY OF CHINA
ADVISED OF ADMINISTRA-TION STAND

(By United Press)
Washington, July 1.—The United States government is taking immediate steps to call a joint conference of the powers in China to study possibility of abolishment of foreign extra territorial rights as provided in a resolution passed at the Washington arms conference.

This information was obtained
from a high government official today who said this government was ready to abolish extra territorial
rights in China under certain conditions.

Minister John MacMurray, who is enroute to his post at Peking, is being advised of the administration's decision, it was said.

This government contemplates appointing a special commission to-

1,352 EVADE U. S. TAX IN NORTHWEST

MINNESOTA ONE OF 5 STATES IN WHICH DELINQUENTS
ARE LISTED

St. Paul, July 1.—There are 1,352
persons in Minnesota and its bordering states who are not paying their income tax debt to Uncle Sam.

Figures made public by the treasury department in Washington reveal the fact that in the division
comprising Minnesota, Nebraska,
North and South Dakota and Wisconsin, the 1,352 delinquents owe income taxes amounting to $62,332, with additional assessments that total $20,125.

161 delinquents of miscellaneous taxes totalling $163,287. Additional assessments of these delinquents amount to $28,832.

country made 52,635 investigations

in income taxes.

SANTA BARBARA RISES PROUDLY FROM RUINS

SEEKS TO RESTORE ITS ARCHITECTURAL MAGNIFICENCE

NATION

WILL ERECT A NEWER AND GREATER "CITY OF DREAMS"

(By United Press)
Santa Barbara, July 1.—Quake
ravaged Santa Barbara rose proudly
from its ruins today and started
erection of its architectural beauty
and magnificence.

Backed by millions of dollars in
proffered aid from a sympathetic nation and the generous gifts of its
wealthy citizens, the herculean effort to wipe away its wreckage and
erect a newer and greater "city of
dreams" was begun.

The tremors which shook into
ruined heaps of brick and mortar
the 18th century Mission and modern edifices that were Santa Barbara's pride, apparently had ceased
today and through the ruins, the city's pride reasserted itself in work
of reconstruction.

With a respite of more than 12
hours since the last shock was felt,
the energies and efforts of the city
administration turned today from
relief work and vigilance to gather
contributions for the rebuilding of Santa Barbara.

The most recent tremor was that of 6:44 P. M. Tuesday, after which
the worried citizens of this resort
city by the sea were able to pass the
night undisturbed.

An appraisal of insurance under-
writers placed the total property
loss here at $30,000,000. Only $1-000,000 of this was protected by insurance.

There is no looting or pilfering.
A milkman driving away from a
Catholic church with empty bottles
lead to a remark that a man had
been seen removing vessels from the
church and this was discounted into
a report of looting.

San Francisco which suffered a
similar fate followed by a disastrous
fire 19 years ago sent $50,000 for immediate relief. Other cities sent
large sums. William Gibbs McAdoo
gave $25,000. Wrecking crews and
gangs of workers attacked the debris
scattered by the heavier quakes of
Monday and Tuesday morning, and
it was estimated that State Street,
running through the heart of the
business section, would be open to
traffic in a few days.

PERSONAL INJURY CASES AGAINST STATE

(By United Press)
St. Paul, July 1.—Personal injury
and other claims against the State of Minnesota, are being reviewed for payment today, according to an announcement by Ray P. Chase state
auditor.

Payment of claims allowed by the last session of the legislature was not possible until today because of the
lack of funds due to the re-organization of the state government, Auditor
Chase said.

Some time will probably be consumed in the arranging and analyzing of the bills before they are finally
paid, it was indicated.

dispensary has increased from 11,000
in 1910 to 70,000 last year.

URNS ON GAS, MILL CITY WOMAN FOUND DEAD AT HOME

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, July 1.—Returning
from a party early today, Mrs.
Irene Johnson turned on the gas
in her kitchen. Her body was found later by her husband, Clarence Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson refused to permit
her husband to accompany her
home from the party. Domestic
trouble was believed responsible
for the act.

PRESIDENT IS HUMAN LIKE REST OF US

HELD UP BY WOMAN TOLL COL-
LECTOR AND PAID 15
CENTS

"CALLED DOWN" BY A
COP

(By United Press)
Swampscott, Mass., July 1.—The
president and Mrs. Coolidge were
back at the summer White House
here today hoping to resume the vacation routine which was interrupted Sunday when they were forced to
hurry to Plymouth to the bedside of
Col. Coolidge.

The return of Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge to Swampscott by motor yesterday was as filled with amusing incidents as when they dashed north-
ward was filled with drama.

The president was held up by a
woman toll collector and forced to
disgorge 15 cents before continuing.

He ate a frugal lunch at a country roadside inn. Repeatedly he lost the road and was compelled to
retrace his way in search of the right route. The final blow came
when stopping at a street corner in Lowell, Mass., to inquire the route
to Salem, a burly policeman stepped
up and growled, "You can't stop

Though the president left his
cramped quarters in his old home
at Plymouth in the belief that
his father was so far improved as
to be out of danger, White Court
will be kept in close and constant
touch with the sickroom.

Mr. Coolidge intends to keep his
engagement to speak Friday at Cambridge at the 150th anniversary of
the arrival of George Washington to
assume command of the continental
army, but it is unlikely he will make
any other engagements which might
interfere with his ability to leave
suddenly for Plymouth.

GIRL DASHED OVER A CLIFF

MIDWAY, VIOLA BOOS CLUNG TO

saved Viola Boos from possible death
late yesterday by dragging her body
to safety from the branch of a tree
suspended midway in the side of a 100-foot cliff overlooking the Mississippi river. Miss Boos missed her
footing at the top of the cliff and
plunged half way down the embank-
ment before grasping the protruding
branch. Her cries for help were
heard by passing motorists who sum-
moned firemen.

JACKSON HOLE REGION MENACED BY LANDSLIDE

CRACK EXTENDS SEVERAL MILES
OVER SHEEP MOUN-
TAIN

ALL LIVESTOCK IN THE REGION
GROUND

(By United Press)
Jackson, Wyo., July 1.—The Jack-
son Hole region near here was prepared today for a third and largest
landslide—a crack extending several miles over the north end of Sheep
Mountain had widened considerably
today under the steady beat of a
heavy rain for the last two days.

William Harris, telegraph operat-
or in the isolated region, said the
slide may come today or it may not
come for years.

Meantime, precautions have been
taken to prevent loss of life should
the slide occur. All livestock in the region has been driven to safer
ground.

SHENANDOAH IN ST. PAUL TUESDAY

MAINE DIRECTLY TO
ST. PAUL

St. Paul, July 1.—The Shenandoah,
leviathan of the air, is expected to
put in at St. Paul early next week.

While no definite day for its arrival is announced officially by the
navy department, it is believed that
the Shenandoah will arrive at Wold-Chamberlain field probably Tuesday
morning. Officials in charge of navy
recruiting here are in receipt of word
from Lieut. H. V. Wiley, shore pilot
of the Los Angeles and for the Shenandoah, that the huge aircraft will
leave for Maine on Friday and that it will make the St. Paul trip from Bar Harbor.

A change in route is contemplated.
It is planned to leave the Maine coast
and come direct to St. Paul. Origini-
ally it was planned to have the Shenandoah back track to Lakehurst base
and then cruise to Cleveland, St.
Louis and north to St. Paul.

The Shenandoah, while of slightly
smaller cubic displacement, is ap-
preciably longer than the Los Angeles, which was scheduled to make
the St. Paul trip originally. The Shenandoah was designed in Germany, but was reconditioned and rebuilt at the Philadelphia air naval
base.

U. S. HAS VERY NICE SURPLUS, $265,000,000

UNEXPECTED PROFIT MEANS A
FURTHER TAX REDUC-
TION

MAY CUT PRESENT BILL OF TAX-PAYER 50 PER CENT

(By United Press)
Washington, July 1.—The United States government's biggest business
interest in the world closed its books
today for the fiscal year 1925 with a surplus of about $265,000,000.

This unexpected profit means that
more than $600,000,000 may be
ready for the next tax reduction
schedule to be worked out for the
winter congress.

Only $300,000,000 was available
last year when congress slashed off
25 per cent of the bill. The new
figures for this fiscal year and estimates for the one ending next June 30th indicate that twice that amount
will be available for the new cut.

If the ordinary policy of permitting all the surplus to be used for
tax reduction, the present bill of the
taxpayer will be cut down about 50
per cent.

But that is not the present scheme.
Officials of the treasury department and administration leaders on Capitol Hill believe that not more than $300,000,000 or $400,000,000
should be used for tax reduction
purposes. Many governmental improvements are needed and a new
and costly building program may be
put through.

ton arms conference.

This information was obtained
from a high government official to-

ready to abolish extra territorial
rights in China under certain conditions.

enroute to his post at Peking, is being advised of the administration's

St. Paul, July 1.—There are 1,352

FIREWORKS FOR JULY 4TH HERE

Material is Now Being Assembled at the Court House

DAYLIGHT AND NIGHT KIND

Civic and Fraternal Organizations Urged to Enter Miniature Parade

The fireworks for the big Fourth of July celebration have arrived, and are being assembled at the court house, so that there may be no delays when the time comes to set them off. The assortment contains some very fine daylight and evening set pieces, the majority of which creations have never been used until this year. Those who attend the celebration are promised some very unique and novel features in the line of fireworks that will be well worth seeing.

Interest in the floats for the miniature parade is gaining daily. Many merchants who originally had not planned to enter floats are now among the most enthusiastic boosters for this feature, and will have some beautiful entries in the parade.

The parade committee wishes to impress upon the business men the fact that their floats will not cease to advertise their lines of business as soon as the parade is over. A special place of prominence has been reserved at the park where all floats will be on display throughout the day and evening, thus making them valuable advertisements during the entire celebration, and a feature which no business house can afford to overlook.

Civic and fraternal organizations, boys and girls, as well as merchants are urged to prepare entries for the parade. Prizes will be awarded that are worth trying for. The Rotary and Lions clubs have announced their intentions of placing floats in the line. Any person, business house or local organization that has not yet decided to enter the parade, is urged to do so at once, and to get in touch with A. A. Englund, chairman of the parade committee, just as quickly as possible.

Picnic parties on the spacious picnic grounds at Lum park, band concerts, morning, afternoon and evening, a patriotic program with Hon. Harold Knutson as principal speaker, sports contests and dancing afternoon and evening, are only a part of the big celebration planned by the local post of the American Legion for the entertainment of the large number expected from Brainerd and the surrounding territory.

That there will be a large number in attendance from other towns in this territory is assured, from the fact that inquiries have already been received from practically all surrounding towns relative to the celebration.

The Minnesota & International Railway will offer special inducements for spending the Fourth in Brainerd by offering fare and one-third for the roundtrip, starting either July 3rd or 4th, with the final return date set for Monday, July 6th. It is expected that this will bring a goodly number from points on that railway to Brainerd for the celebration.

Those who plan to attend the celebration in their own automobiles, are assured of plenty of parking space at Lum park, several acres being set aside for this particular purpose. The enlarging of the park this year provides very much larger and better picnic grounds and auto parking space.

"Meet me at the Brainerd celebration Saturday" should be the advice given by every resident of the city. Local people are urged to boost the celebration at every opportunity, to advertise it to their friends outside the city, and, what is very important, to be in attendance themselves.

Persia in History

Persia or Iran, in the Old Testament called Elam, is situated in southwestern Asia. Its early history is mythical. For some time the country was ruled by the Medes, living to the north, but in the year 559 B. C. the Persians under Cyrus revolted against the Medes, overthrew the Medo-Babylonian monarch, conquered Asia Minor, and became masters of the East. Cyrus, the king of the Persians, was killed in battle in 529 B. C.

The Brute Again

Miss Sabin is employed as home demonstration agent in Duluth.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Where the Social Whirl Held Sway.

At the close of the second war with England the federal government, which had so nearly lost the old Northwest to the British, resolved to build a chain of forts through this inland empire to guard against future dangers and also to protect the frontier settlements which were constantly pushing westward. One of the sites selected was in Wisconsin where the Fox river empties into Green Bay, a place made famous by the early French explorers, a noted fur-trading center and a hotbed of Toryism during the War of 1812.

Congress appropriated $21,000 for this fort (a generous sum in those days) and in 1816 Col. John Miller of the Third Infantry left Fort Mackinac, Mich., with two rifle companies to establish the post at Green Bay. The work was directed by Capt. Lewis Morgan and the post was named Fort Howard in honor of Gen. Benjamin Howard, commander of the military district in which it was located.

Although Fort Howard was a frontier post it soon assumed all the refinements of an Eastern community and it became known as a center of social activity whose prestige in army circles made assignment to it much desired by officers and their wives. In 1819 Maj. Zachary Taylor (later President Taylor) took command at Fort Howard and under the regime of this courtly Southerner and his wife, life there became a continual round of social pleasure—dinner parties, cotillions, boating, sleighing and skating.

To Green Bay also came many distinguished travelers to enjoy the hospitality of Fort Howard, among them Captain Marryat, the famous "Midshipman Easy" who was entertained at the fort in 1832, and the Prince de Joinville, youngest son of King Louis Philippe of France, who visited Green Bay in 1841. It was upon this occasion, according to Eleazer Williams, the half-breed Indian, who claimed to be the Lost Dauphin of France, that the prince sought him out and tried to persuade him to abdicate his claim to the throne in favor of Louis Philippe. History has shown that Williams was a colossal fraud, but his presence at Green Bay, whither he had led a large number of New York Indians to establish an Indian empire in the West, adds another touch of romantic interest to old Fort Howard.

Fort Howard was prominent during the Black Hawk war, but after the Indian question east of the Mississippi was finally settled and the fur trade was no more, it, like many other posts in the old Northwest, soon became only a shadow of its former greatness. (© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

Two Types of Artists

The great artist is forever enlarging the scope of human art and embracing things with love that have never known art before. He can only do that by making them beautiful, and the would-be artist who brings into what he calls his art things that are ugly and remain just as ugly after he has touched them is nothing in the world.—Havelock Ellis.

Flapper Scored For "Era of No Applause"

EVELYN HOEY
When you see Evelyn and spread her fame, will you—remember me?

Evelyn Hoey Complains of Younger Generation's Pose

New York City.—The era of no applause—that's the pass to which the younger generation has brought the stage world, complains Miss Evelyn Hoey, vaudeville headliner.

Miss Hoey is almost bitter about it. She thinks somebody really ought to organize an entertainment strike because of it.

"New York's the best," says she, "but even there joy is always being taken out of life by a literally dumb audience. As for small towns—well, it's gotten dreadful."

"It's the flappers I blame. They think the bored pose is the thing and the boys they go around with copy them. Besides the girls get jealous if their beaux applaud a pretty actress. Some wives show signs of that, too."

"I suppose the men feel it a little, maybe, if their wives get too enthusiastic about some sheik of the stage, but women are the worst—much the worst."

Miss Hoey says the younger generation can sometimes be waked up to slight evidences of sentiment by a sentimental ballad well sung. She boasts that a whole audience of them recently applauded her when she sang "Will You Remember Me?" before they realized what they were doing.

"And then they stopped dead off and looked as embarrassed as if they'd been arrested for chicken stealing," the actress comments gleefully.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

It Fired the First Gun in the Revolution

Contrary to popular opinion, the opening gun of the Revolution was not fired at Lexington, Mass., on April 19, 1775. That honor really belongs to Portsmouth, N. H., where the first overt act in the war for independence took place, December 14, 1774.

On December 13, 1774, Paul Revere, as yet unknown to fame but already acting as messenger in the cause of American liberty, rode posthaste into Portsmouth to warn the local committee of public safety that General Gage was planning to reinforce Fort William and Mary, an ancient fortress of stone in Portsmouth harbor.

Gov. John Wentworth heard of Revere's arrival and sent word to Capt. John Cochran, commander of the little garrison of five soldiers, to be on guard against an attempt by the colonists to seize the munitions in the fort. Accordingly Cochran mounted three four-pounders on the walls of the fort where an attack would most likely come and ordered a sharp watch kept that night.

About four o'clock the next morning a party of 400 citizens, led by John Langdon, later a governor of New Hampshire, and John Sullivan, destined for fame as the conqueror of the Iroquois confederacy during the Revolution, approached the fort in boats. Cochran immediately opened fire, but took care to shoot over the heads of the mob, for he realized what his fate would be if he killed any of them.

Undaunted by the firing, the colonists swarmed into the fort, took Cochran and his men prisoners, but released them after they had carried away 100 barrels of gunpowder (some of which, incidentally, was "returned" to the British from the flaming mouths of patriotic muskets on Bunker Hill a little later) and other supplies. Although Governor Wentworth issued a proclamation calling for the arrest of these "traitors to his majesty," nothing was ever done about it, and in June, 1775, after his efforts to enlist more men to defend the fort had failed, he moved into Fort William and Mary with his family to hold it for King George.

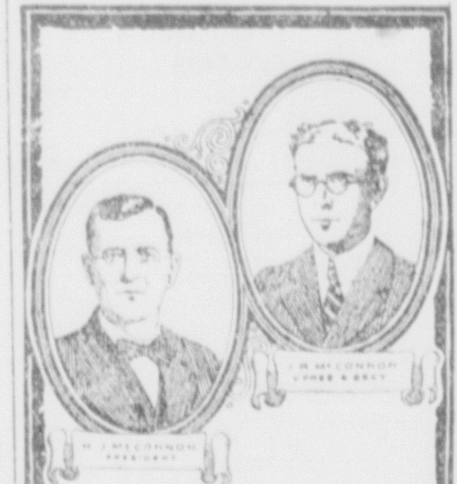

By August the situation had become so threatening that Wentworth was glad to make his escape on a British warship and immediately after his departure the Americans demolished

White House Etiquette

James Monroe consulted his cabinet about the procedure involved in the reception of the diplomatic corps at the Presidential New Year's greeting, and it was decided that for the reception on January 1, 1818, the members of the diplomatic corps should be received at 11:30, and the general public from twelve to three o'clock. This was the first time that a fixed time was arranged.

Camouflaged

A woman carrying something wrapped carefully in a blanket entered a Pittsburgh street car. No seat being available, she stood before an elderly woman, who, evidently thinking it was a baby in the blanket, gave the other woman her seat. The woman with the large bundle sat down. After riding several blocks, she carefully turned back the folds of the blanket and disclosed the face of a small, black dog.

FIREWORKS FOR JULY 4TH HERE

Material is Now Being Assembled at the Court House

DAYLIGHT AND NIGHT KIND

Civic and Fraternal Organizations Urged to Enter Miniature Parade

The fireworks for the big Fourth of July celebration have arrived, and are being assembled at the court house, so that there may be no delays when the time comes to set them off. The assortment contains some very fine daylight and evening set pieces, the majority of which creations have never been used until this year. Those who attend the celebration are promised some very unique and novel features in the line of fireworks that will be well worth seeing.

Interest in the floats for the miniature parade is gaining daily. Many merchants who originally had not planned to enter floats are now among the most enthusiastic boosters for this feature, and will have some beautiful entries in the parade.

The parade committee wishes to impress upon the business men the fact that their floats will not cease to advertise their lines of business as soon as the parade is over. A special place of prominence has been reserved at the park where all floats will be on display throughout the day and evening, thus making them valuable advertisements during the entire celebration, and a feature which no business house can afford to overlook.

Civic and fraternal organizations, boys and girls, as well as merchants are urged to prepare entries for the parade. Prizes will be awarded that are worth trying for. The Rotary and Lions clubs have announced their intentions of placing floats in the line. Any person, business house or local organization that has not yet decided to enter the parade, is urged to do so at once, and to get in touch with A. A. Englund, chairman of the parade committee, just as quickly as possible.

Picnic parties on the spacious picnic grounds at Lum park, band concerts, morning, afternoon and evening, a patriotic program with Hon. Harold Knutson as principal speaker, sports contests and dancing afternoon and evening, are only a part of the big celebration planned by the local post of the American Legion for the entertainment of the large number expected from Brainerd and the surrounding territory.

That there will be a large number in attendance from other towns in this territory is assured, from the fact that inquiries have already been received from practically all surrounding towns relative to the celebration.

The Minnesota & International Railway will offer special inducements for spending the Fourth in Brainerd by offering fare and one-third for the roundtrip, starting either July 3rd or 4th, with the final return date set for Monday, July 6th. It is expected that this will bring a goodly number from points on that railway to Brainerd for the celebration.

Those who plan to attend the celebration in their own automobiles, are assured of plenty of parking space at Lum park, several acres being set aside for this particular purpose. The enlarging of the park this year provides very much larger and better picnic grounds and auto parking space.

"Meet me at the Brainerd celebration Saturday" should be the advice given by every resident of the city. Local people are urged to boost the celebration at every opportunity, to advertise it to their friends outside the city, and, what is very important, to be in attendance themselves.

Persia in History

Persia or Iran, in the Old Testament called Elam, is situated in southwestern Asia. Its early history is mythical. For some time the country was ruled by the Medes, living to the north, but in the year 559 B. C. the Persians under Cyrus revolted against the Medes, overthrew the Medo-Babylonian monarch, conquered Asia Minor, and became masters of the East. Cyrus, the king of the Persians, was killed in battle in 529 B. C.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Where the Social Whirl Held Sway.

At the close of the second war with England the federal government, which had so nearly lost the old Northwest to the British, resolved to build a chain of forts through this inland empire to guard against future dangers and also to protect the frontier settlements which were constantly pushing westward. One of the sites selected was in Wisconsin where the Fox river empties into Green bay, a place made famous by the early French explorers, a noted fur-trading center and a hotbed of Toryism during the War of 1812.

Congress appropriated $21,000 for this fort (a generous sum in those days) and in 1816 Col. John Miller of the Third Infantry left Fort Mackinac, Mich., with two rifle companies to establish the post at Green Bay. The work was directed by Capt. Lewis Morgan and the post was named Fort Howard in honor of Gen. Benjamin Howard, commander of the military district in which it was located.

Although Fort Howard was a frontier post it soon assumed all the refinements of an Eastern community and it became known as a center of social activity whose prestige in army circles made assignment to it much desired by officers and their wives. In 1819 Maj. Zachary Taylor (later President Taylor) took command at Fort Howard and under the regime of this courtly Southerner and his wife, life there became a continual round of social pleasure—dinner parties, cotillions, boating, sleighing and skating.

To Green Bay also came many distinguished travelers to enjoy the hospitality of Fort Howard, among them Captain Marryat, the famous "Midshipman Easy" who was entertained at the fort in 1832, and the Prince de Joinville, youngest son of King Louis Philippe of France, who visited Green Bay in 1841. It was upon this occasion, according to Eleazer Williams, the half-breed Indian, who claimed to be the Lost Dauphin of France, that the prince sought him out and tried to persuade him to abdicate his claim to the throne in favor of Louis Philippe. History has shown that Williams was a colossal fraud, but his presence at Green Bay, whether he had led a large number of New York Indians to establish an Indian empire in the West, adds another touch of romantic interest to old Fort Howard.

Fort Howard was prominent during the Black Hawk war, but after the Indian question east of the Mississippi was finally settled and the fur trade was no more, it, like many other posts in the old Northwest, soon became only a shadow of its former greatness. (© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

Two Types of Artists

The great artist is forever enlarging the scope of human art and embracing things with love that have never known art before. He can only do that by making them beautiful, and the would-be artist who brings into what he calls his art things that are ugly and remain just as ugly after he has touched them is nothing in the world.—Havelock Ellis.

Flapper Scored For "Era of No Applause"

EVELYN HOEY

When we see bloom and spread perfume, Will you—remember me?

Evelyn Hoey Complains of Younger Generation's Pose

New York City.—The era of no applause—that's the pass to which the younger generation has brought the stage world, complains Miss Evelyn Hoey, vaudeville headliner.

Miss Hoey is almost bitter about it. She thinks somebody really ought to organize an entertainers strike because of it.

"New York's the best," says she, "but even there joy is always being taken out of life by a literally dumb audience. As for small towns—well, it's gotten dreadful. 'It's the flappers I blame. They think the bored pose is the thing and the boys they go around with copy them. Besides the girls get jealous if their beaux applaud a pretty actress. Some wives show signs of that, too.

"I suppose the men feel it a little, maybe, if their wives get too enthusiastic about some shiek of the stage, but women are the worst—much the worst."

Miss Hoey says the younger generation can sometimes be waked up to slight evidences of sentiment by a sentimental ballad well sung. She boasts that a whole audience of them recently applauded her when she sang "Will You Remember Me?" before they realized what they were doing.

"And then they stopped dead off and looked as embarrassed as if they'd been arrested for chicken stealing," the actress comments gleefully.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

It Fired the First Gun in the Revolution

Contrary to popular opinion, the opening gun of the Revolution was not fired at Lexington, Mass., on April 19, 1775. That honor really belongs to Portsmouth, N. H., where the first overt act in the war for independence took place, December 14, 1774.

On December 13, 1774, Paul Revere, as yet unknown to fame but already acting as messenger in the cause of American liberty, rode posthaste into Portsmouth to warn the local committee of public safety that General Gage was planning to reinforce Fort William and Mary, an ancient fortress of stone in Portsmouth harbor.

Gov. John Wentworth heard of Revere's arrival and sent word to Capt. John Cochran, commander of the little garrison of five soldiers, to be on guard against an attempt by the colonists to seize the munitions in the fort. Accordingly Cochran mounted three four-pounders on the walls of the fort where an attack would most likely come and ordered a sharp watch kept that night.

About four o'clock the next morning a party of 400 citizens, led by John Langdon, later a governor of New Hampshire, and John Sullivan, destined for fame as the conqueror of the Iroquois confederacy during the Revolution, approached the fort in boats. Cochran immediately opened fire, but took care to shoot over the heads of the mob, for he realized what his fate would be if he killed any of them.

Undaunted by the firing, the colonists swarmed into the fort, took Cochran and his men prisoners, but released them after they had carried away 100 barrels of gunpowder (some of which, incidentally, was "returned" to the British from the flaming mouths of patriotic muskets on Bunker Hill a little later) and other supplies. Although Governor Wentworth issued a proclamation calling for the arrest of these "traitors to his majesty," nothing was ever done about it, and in June, 1775, after his efforts to enlist more men to defend the fort had failed, he moved into Fort William and Mary with his family to hold it for King George.

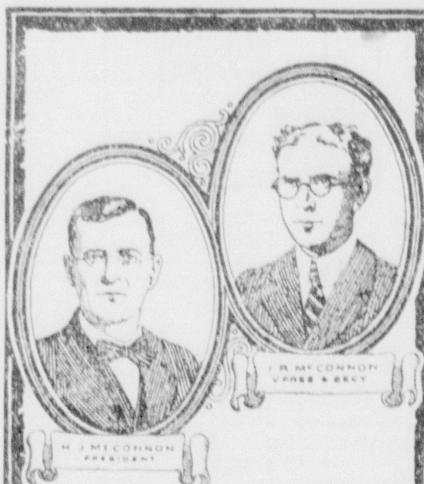

By August the situation had become so threatening that Wentworth was glad to make his escape on a British warship and immediately after his departure the Americans demolished

White House Etiquette

James Monroe consulted his cabinet about the procedure involved in the reception of the diplomatic corps at the Presidential New Year's greeting, and it was decided that for the reception on January 1, 1818, the members of the diplomatic corps should be received at 11:30, and the general public from twelve to three o'clock. This was the first time that a fixed time was arranged.

Camouflaged

A woman carrying something wrapped carefully in a blanket entered a Pittsburgh street car. No seat being available, she stood before an elderly woman, who, evidently thinking it was a baby in the blanket, gave the other woman her seat. The woman with the large bundle sat down. After riding several blocks, she carefully turned back the folds of the blanket and disclosed the face of a small, black dog.

AS FAMOUS AS MAGNETS

DURING the last campaign of Magnus Johnson, he drew attention to the publicity he was getting for Minnesota, in fact billboards in China had portrayed his smiling features. Now China isn't the sole stamping ground of Mr. Johnson.

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH has also invaded those tea-garden, rice-laden precincts. From data received by Harold Emerson Smith, assistant editor of "Concrete Products," it appears that the Chinese Good Roads Monthly, the official organ of the National Road Construction Association of China, reproduced a BRAINERD DISPATCH editorial in its March 15, 1925, issue. It championed licensing of automobiles and recited several pertinent points, for instance at present any car owner can run a car, no attention being paid his physical or mental condition, and then only when an accident happens. How many near-sighted people are running cars? How many people have a real knowledge of traffic rules and know how to stop their car quickly, etc. etc.?

The Good Roads Monthly is in its 13th year and is published the 15th of each month, at Shanghai, China. Dr. C. T. Wang is president of the National Road Construction Association of China. Vice presidents are George C. Hsu and P. W. Kue; general secretary, Wu San; treasurer, S. Chiung; secretaries, Hsu Yin, Y. S. Chang and C. Y. Wong.

Among the important articles contributed in this anniversary number is one stating what the publication can do, written by Wang Tuh-chih; "The Future Prospect of Motor Roads in China," by Yang Teh-ren; "The Importance of Public Highways," by Neih Shao-lin; "A Survey of the Highway Traffic," by Peng Yu-mu; "To Apply Boxer Indemnity for Road-Building Purposes," by Yang Chih-ming; "Reconstruction of Old-style Bridges," by Tung Tsou-u, etc. The magazine carries many timely illustrations, but we could not read the script, as it is in Chinese.

Harold Emerson Smith, previously named, is a son of Mrs. Fanny E. Smith, formerly of Brainerd, and he showed his interest in his home town by sending a marked copy of the Chinese publication to THE DISPATCH.

PEONIES TO BEAUTIFY STREET

At the Rotary club recently, William V. Turcotte broached the proposition of planting a solid bed of peonies in the center boulevard of North Sixth between Kingwood and Juniper streets, and later if possible the strip on North Sixth street, from Kingwood to Main streets, thus making a beautiful and distinctive entrance to Gregory park that can be viewed by all tourists and by train passengers.

Mr. Turcotte's idea was taken up by the club and President John F. Woodhead appointed a committee to put the plan into execution. Mr. Turcotte's love for flowers originated over three years ago when his wife made him plant some peony bulbs in his yard. Bill at that time considered peony bulbs in the same category as onions, as they look much alike. When the bulbs produced flowers, the peonies were of such splendor that Bill exhibited them at the recent flower show in the court house and he won three prizes. Since then Mr. Turcotte's hobby for pretty flowers has out-distanced his love for hunting and fishing.

When the immense distribution of peony and dahlia bulbs was made, the Turcotte store was the center of such operations and Bill assisted a corps of ladies in parceling out the bulbs. Since then Mr. Turcotte has started delving into peony culture and knows the percentage of every bulb quoted, the period of growth and many other statistics. And what is more to the point, Bill makes the bulbs grow.

His idea of a flowery pathway leading to Gregory park where all may see it and especially from train windows, is a very good one, and will do much to give the transient visitor a pleasant memory of this city.

JUNE AND ITS RAINS

GOVERNMENT weather bureau statistics at Brainerd record the fact that five and sixteen-hundredths inches of rain fell in the month of June. This is a lot of rainfall. Some people may not know what so much rainfall means, but they can estimate it when they realize that a light drizzle of rain will mark 0.01 inch in the tube.

Due to conservation of water under new regulations and the added rainfall, lakes are increasing in bulk and getting back to that generous appearance of the old days. The seven years of moisture shrinkage are being succeeded by the year of plenty. As County Highway Engineer Walter M. Murphy stated, and his observations have been borne out by the facts, lake levels move up and down in cycles.

Crops in Crow Wing county are generally in a thriving condition, according to reports from County Agricultural Agent E. G. Roth. True, the rainfall did a little damage in isolated cases by small washouts. But in general, all the small grains, potatoes, alfalfa and other grasses, strawberries, raspberries and similar small fruits, all garden stuff is thriving.

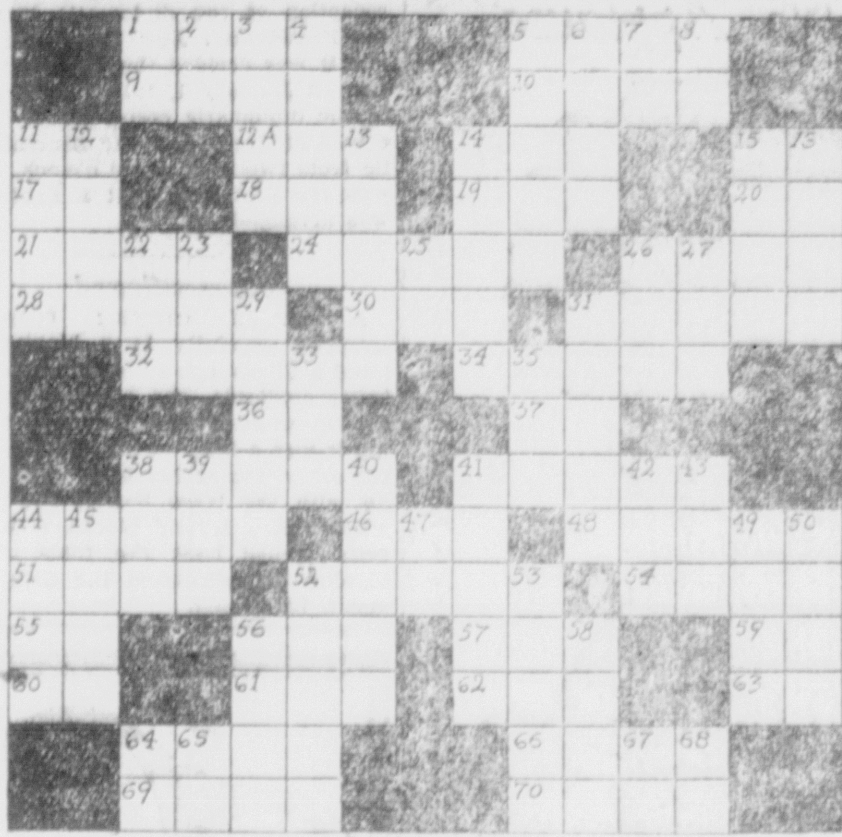

Corn, however, was retarded by May frosts, and is not showing any luxuriant growth.

PAYING DEBTS

FOREIGN countries borrowing money from the United States, are at last making a move to pay their war indebtedness. The idea that America is a general Santa Claus is being dissipated. The way things financial first appeared, it seemed several nations contemplated taking the Nelson cure on a large scale. National honor shown in payment of debts is as much to be desired and commended as the acts of individuals of the various nations, who are prompt to meet their obligations, or to acknowledge indebtedness and provide some means giving assurance of payment. You can never accuse the United States of being isolated, when half the world owes it money.

And when it comes to flunking on war loans, it is not the United States that is the ultimate sufferer. American people subscribed for the bonds that financed the war loans to European nations. Non-payment of war loans hits the people of the United States. Of course many a man who shouts about absolving payment and forgetting about the loans, has long since sold his Liberty bonds.

Now Is Time to Order Peonies

To the flower loving public:
The peony show just closed was for the purpose of showing the people of Brainerd and vicinity the different kinds of peonies, that they might select new varieties for their gardens.

Peonies should be purchased now. The grower will then fill the orders and there will be no disappointments.

It might be suggested that if those selecting peonies will bear in mind the fact that peonies are rated upon 10 points it will assist them in making their selections. Most growers give the ratings of each peony they advertise. Any peony rating above 8 points is an excellent variety. For example, Therese is rated 9.8; Le-Cygne, 9.9, the highest rating of any peony.

It should be remembered that the peonies will be rated as "early," "early midseason," "midseason," "late midseason," and "late," so that one may make selections to cover a longer period of blooming.

But get your orders in early. Now is the best time.
Crow Wing Garden Flower Society.

"Get Your Goat"

The origin of this phrase, which means to annoy, irritate or make angry, is not known for certain. Modern lexicographers believe "goat" in this expression is a contraction of "goatee," the chin tuft or pointed beard. If this is correct, "to get one's goat" literally would mean to pull one's beard, which is considered the most humiliating kind of insult.—Pathfinder Magazine.

They Can Get Away

Young sheldrakes cannot fly until they are pretty well grown, says Nature Magazine, but this does not hinder them from getting away when pursued by a boat, for they flap along rapidly over the surface, beating the water with their wings like little side-wheel boats.

Heart Beats Photographed

The cardiograph, a new electrical instrument, is being used by quite a few heart specialists in the big hospitals today. Every beat and tremor of the heart may be photographed by it. It works on the principle that every movement of the heart generates an electrical current.

Support for Plant Stalk

A charming support to hold steady the stalk of a plant in a pot consists of a slender stick with a painted wooden bird nailed or glued at its top. Such a bird may be cut, in silhouette, from thin soft wood and painted in bright colors with oil or house paints, and afterward varnished. Even though the work is somewhat rough, though the effect will still be good.

Branded in the Valley

By MARTHA PIERCE

AS the day died, three horsemen rode down from the mountain and struck into the trail that leads across the mesa. They rode in silence, save once when the leader half turned in his saddle and spoke to the rider nearest him.

"How far is it, Jim?"

"Jim lifted his bridle reins, and his horse sprang alongside the big gray of the leader.

"Bout thirty miles yet," he said briefly; "we'll make it by nine o'clock."

*****

The moon climbed up over a high bluff and looked down upon a little valley where a small, swift stream ran through green meadows. In the midst of the valley one tree stood like a sentinel near a low log house set a stone's throw from the brink of the stream.

A fire that leaped upon the hearth and flung its ruddy light through the small windows served to light the rude interior, its uncertain gleams half revealing, half concealing the rough uncutness of a man who sat before the fireplace holding a child upon his knee.

"Now tell me," he was saying, "why you didn't go home with Mrs. Potter today, when she rode all the way over here on purpose. Mrs. Potter's right about it bein' too lonesome for you to stay here when I'm out in the hills. It is mighty lonesome for a little girl like you. You better let me take you over tomorrow." She shook her head until her misty hair flew out like an oriole.

"Who'd keep house for you?" she asked, as if that question settled the whole matter.

He laughed weakly. "You do take pretty good care of your old dad, don't you? And you're all the housekeeper he's had for a good spell now."

"Since ma went to heaven," said the child gravely.

He started and looked at her curiously.

"Who told you that?" he said, almost roughly.

"Told me what?"

She was looking at the fire intently, and had a half-absorbed expression.

"That ma went to heaven. Oh, she told me herself, before she went, and she made me promise I'd come, too."

She told me all about the angels and God and everything. She said the angels were all around, every place, and since she died I know it's true, 'cause I've seen 'em. There's one right there in the fire now. I've been seeing it ever so long. A little baby angel with its wings spread out to fly. See, pa? Right there, in the middle of the brightest—see?"

"No," said the man, slowly. "I can't quite make it out." Suddenly he started.

"What's that?"

He opened the door and looked out. Three men on horseback confronted him. He was covered instantly.

"We're onto you," said one laconically, "say your prayers."

He grew pale beneath the bronze, but he faced them resolutely, and stood a trifle straighter.

"What does this mean, men?" he said. "What have I done?"

The leader laughed grimly.

"When a man's too handy with his brandin' irons he's apt to run up against trouble some day. You've got about two minutes to make your last will and testament."

At last, after a minute as long as years, he spoke stumbingly, as if words of entreaty came hardly to his lips.

"You have homes, men, and little ones, maybe. Think of the child, and have mercy." He caught her up suddenly and held her before them.

Startled by the sudden movement, the big gray reared and pawed the air. There was a sharp report and a shrill scream through the stillness of the valley; then the father stood looking stupidly at the limp and senseless thing he held in his arms, and the swift red stream that dyed his shirt sleeve.

The big gray had bolted, and after a moment of horrified waiting the two who were left wheeled their horses and rode away through the night leaving the outcast alone with his dead.

The sun climbed up over the high bluff and looked down on the green valley where the one tree stood by the low log house. Under the tree a man was stooping over a little mound by the side of a long one, patting it softly and babbling to himself about his baby, and the little angel in the fire. After awhile he wandered away hatless and careless toward the mountain.

No one lives in the house in the valley. They say that when the moon is full fire leaps upon the deserted hearth and flings a ruddy glow through the windows, and he who listens may presently hear the shrill scream of a child, and the clatter of fleeing horsemen across the mesa. But others say it is a myth, and one can see nothing but the moonlight reflected from the windows, and hear nothing save the dismal and long-drawn cry of a coyote.

AS FAMOUS AS MAGNUS

DURING the last campaign of Magnus Johnson, he drew attention to the publicity he was getting for Minnesota, in fact billboards in China had portrayed his smiling features. Now China isn't the sole stamping ground of Mr. Johnson.

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH has also invaded those tea-garden, rice-laden precincts. From data received by Harold Emerson Smith, assistant editor of "Concrete Products," it appears that the Chinese Good Roads Monthly, the official organ of the National Road Construction Association of China, reproduced a BRAINERD DISPATCH editorial in its March 15, 1925, issue. It championed licensing drivers of automobiles and recited several pertinent points, for instance at present any car owner can run a car, no attention being paid his physical or mental condition, and then only when an accident happens. How many near-sighted people are running cars? How many people have a real knowledge of traffic rules and know how to stop their car quickly, etc. etc.?

The Good Roads Monthly is in its 13th year and is published the 15th of each month, at Shanghai, China. Dr. C. T. Wang is president of the National Road Construction Association of China. Vice presidents are George C. Hsu and P. W. Kue; general secretary, Wu San; treasurer, S. Chiung; secretaries, Hsu Yin, Y. S. Chang and C. Y. Wong.

Among the important articles contributed in this anniversary number is one stating what the publication can do, written by Wang Tuh-chih; "The Future Prospect of Motor Roads in China," by Yang Teh-ren; "The Importance of Public Highways," by Neih Shao-lin; "A Survey of the Highway Traffic," by Peng Yu-mu; "To Apply Boxer Indemnity for Road-Building Purposes," by Yang Chih-ming; "Reconstruction of Old-style Bridges," by Tung Tson-u, etc. The magazine carries many timely illustrations, but we could not read the script, as it is in Chinese.

Harold Emerson Smith, previously named, is a son of Mrs. Fanny E. Smith, formerly of Brainerd, and he showed his interest in his home town by sending a marked copy of the Chinese publication to THE DISPATCH.

PEONIES TO BEAUTIFY STREET

At the Rotary club recently, William V. Turcotte broached the proposition of planting a solid bed of peonies in the center boulevard of North Sixth between Kingwood and Juniper streets, and later if possible the strip on North Sixth street, from Kingwood to Main streets, thus making a beautiful and distinctive entrance to Gregory park that can be viewed by all tourists and by train passengers.

Mr. Turcotte's idea was taken up by the club and President John F. Woodhead appointed a committee to put the plan into execution. Mr. Turcotte's love for flowers originated over three years ago when his wife made him plant some peony bulbs in his yard. Bill at that time considered peony bulbs in the same category as onions, as they look much alike. When the bulbs produced flowers, the peonies were of such splendor that Bill exhibited them at the recent flower show in the court house and he won three prizes. Since then Mr. Turcotte's hobby for pretty flowers has out-distanced his love for hunting and fishing.

When the immense distribution of peony and dahlia bulbs was made, the Turcotte store was the center of such operations and Bill assisted a corps of ladies in parceling out the bulbs. Since then Mr. Turcotte has started delving into peony culture and knows the percentage of every bulb quoted, the period of growth and many other statistics. And what is more to the point, Bill makes the bulbs grow.

His idea of a flowery pathway leading to Gregory park where all may see it and especially from train windows, is a very good one, and will do much to give the transient visitor a pleasant memory of this city.

JUNE AND ITS RAINS

GOVERNMENT weather bureau statistics at Brainerd record the fact that five and sixteen-hundredths inches of rain fell in the month of June. This is a lot of rainfall. Some people may not know what so much rainfall means, but they can estimate it when they realize that a light drizzle of rain will mark 0.01 inch in the tube.

Due to conservation of water under new regulations and the added rainfall, lakes are increasing in bulk and getting back to that generous appearance of the old days. The seven years of moisture shrinkage are being succeeded by the year of plenty. As County Highway Engineer Walter M. Murphy stated, and his observations have been borne out by the facts, lake levels move up and down in cycles.

Crops in Crow Wing county are generally in a thriving condition, according to reports from County Agricultural Agent E. G. Roth. True, the rainfall did a little damage in isolated cases by small washouts. But in general, all the small grains, potatoes, alfalfa and other grasses, strawberries, raspberries and similar small fruits, all garden stuff is thriving.

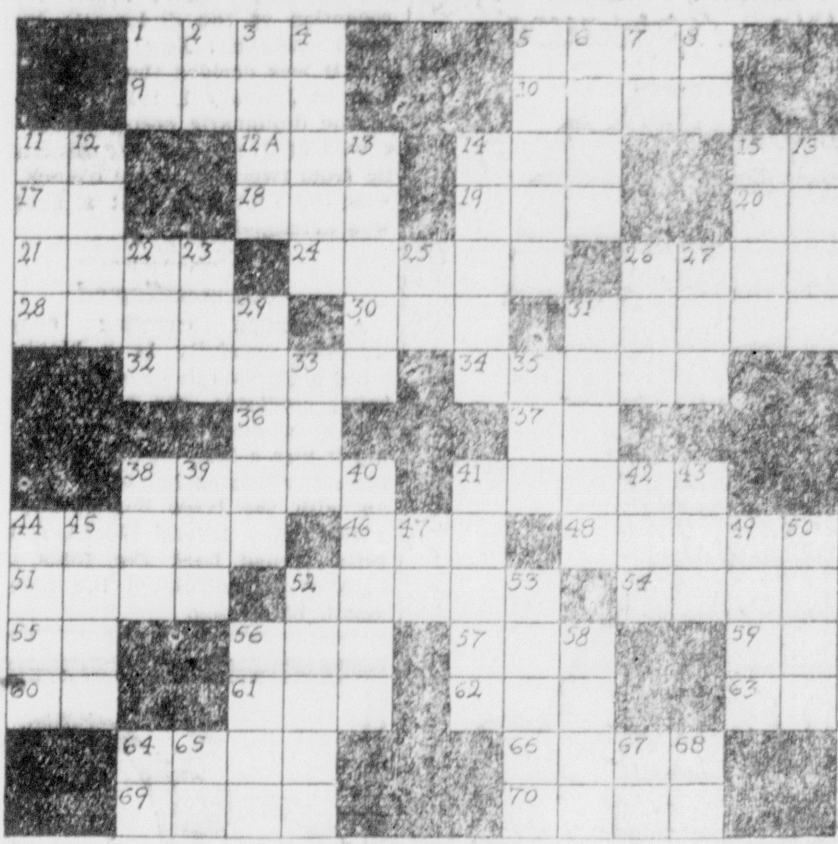

Corn, however, was retarded by May frosts, and is not showing any luxuriant growth.

PAYING DEBTS

FOREIGN countries borrowing money from the United States, are at last making a move to pay their war indebtedness. The idea that America is a general Santa Claus is being dissipated. The way things financial first appeared, it seemed several nations contemplated taking the Nelson cure on a large scale. National honor shown in payment of debts is as much to be desired and commended as the acts of individuals of the various nations, who are prompt to meet their obligations, or to acknowledge indebtedness and provide some means giving assurance of payment. You can never accuse the United States of being isolated, when half the world owes it money.

And when it comes to flunking on war loans, it is not the United States that is the ultimate sufferer. American people subscribed for the bonds that financed the war loans to European nations. Non-payment of war loans hits the people of the United States. Of course many a man who shouts about absolving payment and forgetting about the loans, has long since sold his Liberty bonds.

Now Is Time to Order Peonies

To the flower loving public:
The peony show just closed was for the purpose of showing the people of Brainerd and vicinity the different kinds of peonies, that they might select new varieties for their gardens. Peonies should be purchased now. The grower will then fill the orders and there will be no disappointments. It might be suggested that if those selecting peonies will bear in mind the fact that peonies are rated upon 10 points it will assist them in making their selections. Most growers give the ratings of each peony they advertise. Any peony rating above 8 points is an excellent variety. For example, Therese is rated 9.5; Le-Cygne, 9.9, the highest rating of any peony.

It should be remembered that the peonies will be rated as "early," "early midseason," "midseason," "late midseason," and "late," so that one may make selections to cover a longer period of blooming.

But get your orders in early. Now is the best time.

"Get Your Goat"

The origin of this phrase, which means to annoy, irritate or make angry, is not known for certain. Modern lexicographers believe "goat" in this expression is a contraction of "goatee," the chin tuft or pointed beard. If this is correct, "to get one's goat" literally would mean to pull one's beard, which is considered the most humiliating kind of insult.—Pathfinder Magazine.

They Can Get Away

Young sheldrakes cannot fly until they are pretty well grown, says Nature Magazine, but this does not hinder them from getting away when pursued by a boat, for they flap along rapidly over the surface, beating the water with their wings like little side-wheel boats.

Heart Beats Photographed

The cardiograph, a new electrical instrument, is being used by quite a few heart specialists in the big hospitals today. Every beat and tremor of the heart may be photographed by it. It works on the principle that every movement of the heart generates an electrical current.

Support for Plant Stalk

A charming support to hold steady the stalk of a plant in a pot consists of a slender stick with a painted wooden bird nailed or glued at its top. Such a bird may be cut, in silhouette, from thin soft wood and painted in bright colors with oil or house paints, and afterward varnished. Even though the work is somewhat roughly done, the effect will still be good.

Levees and Floods

Floods on the Euphrates, the Tigris and the Nile were partly controlled in ancient times by levees and by deflecting parts of the flood waters into depressions in the desert.—Science Service.

Hints on How to Make Own Dresses

Suggestions That Will Be Helpful to Woman Who Can Use Needle.

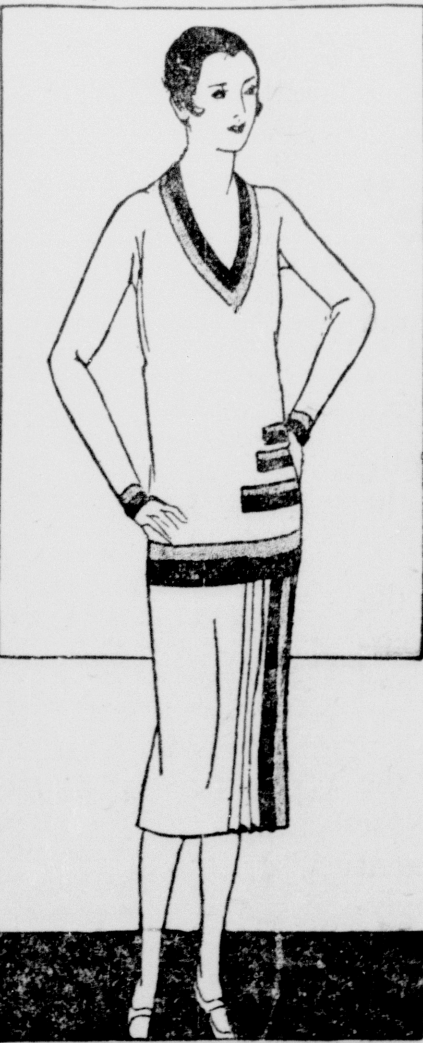

The pathway of the home dressmaker has been strewn with roses ever since the day that the chemise frock took its place in the sacred circles of the mode, and its partial eclipse this season, observes a fashion writer in the New York Herald-Tribune, has occasioned many reproaches and dubious glances on the part of this flimsily inclined lady. The mantle of the chemise, however, has fortunately fallen on the athletic shoulders of the jumper frock, whose construction is almost as simple, and the nimble-fingered lady can settle down to at least another season of complacency. Moreover, closer analysis will prove that the comparative complexity of the new frocks is more a matter of detail than foundation, and their making is less of a problem than it seems.

The first maxim of the French home dressmaker is this: Always eliminate unnecessary trimming, think first of your line, study your figure, look at yourself in a long glass—if possible one with wings, so that you can examine your outline from every viewpoint. If you are slim and straight the world of fashion is at your feet. You have only to run up a little jumper and put a group of knife plaits on either side of your straight crepe de chine skirt to match and Paris could do little more for you.

Making Plumpness a Virtue.

If an unkind fate has endowed you with a little more than the necessary plumpness, your problem is more difficult and calls for more selective discretion. It is a truism that the large woman must avoid horizontal stripes and trimmings, yet how unfortunately often she chooses them. If you are what the French call roudelette, remember always to put some little touch into your dress that gives length. It may be a narrow panel down the center front—for instance, you can choose a printed cotton voile in a straggling flower pattern, making it up so that the long lines run from neck to hem.

A printed voile model recently seen is particularly adapted to the average embonpoint figure, as its flower design runs up and down, giving a perpendicular striped effect. The narrow, plain panel in front, with its row of buttons and fine pin tucks on either side, also gives length. It is the same color as the ground of the material and is edged with a tiny frill of the color of the design. Both colors edge the short straight sleeves. Though both back and front are each cut in one piece, the effect of a separate skirt and bodice is given by merely adding a gathered drouce at a longish waistline in front. Be sure to arrange the fullness of the drouce more in front than on the hips, for, though the latter arrangement is charming for the slender demoiselle, her more plump sister must avoid emphasizing the hip line. The back of this dress is made straight and in one piece. You will be quite in the swing if you give a two-piece effect in front and show a straight, unbroken line at the back—so many dresses in Paris carry this deceptive appearance this season.

Ingenious Trimming Effects.

If your flower design is printed on a beige or pink ground you will make your center panel about three inches wide, of beige or pink, cut on the straight of the material. It is best to draw a thread each side, to be sure to get it perfectly even all the way down. You may trim it with three fine hand-sewn pin tucks running all the way down on both sides, and as a further decoration put a line of small buttons matching the design of the flowers in color down the center. Edge the panel on each side with a tiny frill or piping the same shade as the buttons. Then your dress will have all the trimming it requires. Put

Dr. James Harrison Rogers Who Sent Radio Message Using His Underground Antennae

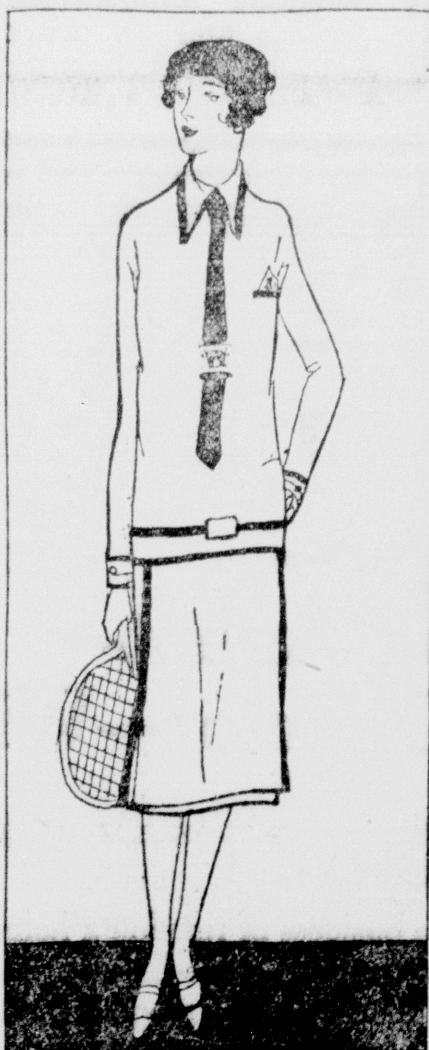

Dr. Rogers of Hyattsville, Maryland, believes that long distance radio waves travel through the earth and sea rather than through the air. He recently proved this theory by transmitting a message from his laboratory to Toulon, France by way of his underground antennae.

In small, straight sleeves about five inches long and edge them with a two-color band, half an inch in the color of the ground and half an inch in the shade of the buttons. Don't go in for puffs. Leave them for the slim girl, as they widen the silhouette. You can add a six-inch-wide sash of the printed material, with a pleat edge or finely bordered with a bias band, if you like, but it is not necessary, as the beltless dress shows to greater advantage on the stout figure.

The Insertion of Godets.

The nimble-fingered lady who is able to essay something a little more complicated can insert godets to give a little variety to her summer skirts. These should be curved at the hem and generally fall a little below the straight line of the skirt itself. You can either have a godet inlet on each side or one in front as well. In the latter case it is better to make the front godet higher and put in the side ones on a lower level.

No article on home dressmaking can be complete this season without reference to the jumper frock which plays such an important part in every woman's wardrobe. There are long jumpers that are almost tunics, and these you may embroider with a large motif or a complicated monogram. Or they might be adorned with a scarf collar, its ends faced with a contrasting color to match the accompanying skirt. You may make the sleeves long or short, inset bands of a contrasting material and trim the hem of the skirt in the same way. In short, the possibilities of the long jumper are only limited by your own ingenuity.

The short jumper that reaches the hips is an even more useful model, but it ought not to be made to wear with any old skirt. The jumper of today has its own skirt to match and is worn with no other. It forms a petite robe complete. The only diversion you may permit yourself is a check and a striped jumper in perhaps blue and white, to wear with the same blue plaid skirt; but the blue of the skirt must be of the same material and exactly the same tones as the stripe or check of the two jumpers. Inasmuch as it is better to have the stripes run horizontally this particular model should be limited to the slender type. There are infinite ways of introducing variety into the short jumper, and the greatest of these is the collar. The most practical and usual is the straight coat collar with small turn-back revers. The high collar with a roll-over top is worn in silk and crepe de chine as well as in cashmere and jersey. It often has a slit in the corsage of the jumper, at the back, and a striking finish is a looped cravat hanging down a little lower than the slit. If you wish to be very industrious you can embroider the loop, but to be consistent you should then embroider two motifs of the same design in the front of the jumper just above the hem. The scarf collar may be put on straight in the front so that it looks like a soft high collar, and the ends may be tied in a knot between the shoulders behind or in a loose bow at the back of the neck. A plaited cravat gives chic to the plain jumper with an ordinary coat collar.

For the Over-Slender Miss.

As for the girl who really is a little too thin—she does exist, even in these days of narrow lines—fluffy frills and flounces are their salvation. Her corsage can be made with the lines of the material going round the figure, and she should always be careful to put in a few gathers on the shoulder seam in front. Nothing is better for any figure, and the very thin girl cannot do without them. She should blouse her dress slightly and punch it over a sash that can be tied in a puffy bow at the side. Her skirt may be made with the lines of the design going up and down, but it should be decorated with five or six little frills, cut on straight lines and finished with a piece of pleat edge, gathered all round, with most of the fullness concentrated on the hips. Short puff sleeves are smart this year and would be charming with a little frock of this type. They can be made with small handkerchief ties knotted or tied in a bow on the outer arm.

Lake Superior is the deepest of the Great Lakes, most of it being more than 600 feet, as compared to Lake Erie's maximum depth of 180 feet. North of Copper Harbor, Mich., Lake Superior attains 954 feet, but the greatest depth is about 20 miles off Otter Head, Ontario—1,008 feet.

CONVENTION OF ZIONISTS OPENED SUNDAY

700 DELEGATES WERE IN ATTENDANCE DURING SESSIONS

JEWISH HOME LAND MOVEMENT WAS CONSIDERED BY ASSEMBLY

(By United Press)
Washington, July 1.—The twenty-eighth annual convention of the Zionist Organization of America opened here Sunday with over seven hundred delegates from all parts of the United States coming to celebrate the advances made in the up-building of the Jewish Homeland in Palestine during the past year. The convention lasted three days and will be followed by the annual convention of Hadassah, the women's Zionist organization, which will also continue for two days.

Leading American Zionists, who have recently returned from surveys of the Jewish Homeland movement in Palestine reported on the progress made during the past year, featured by the most extensive colonization and largest immigration in the history of Zionism and by the opening of the Hebrew University on Mount Scopus by Lord Balfour.

The convention this year is considered of utmost importance by Zionist leaders throughout the world, because definite action will be taken on questions relative to the administration of the Palestine mandate and brought before the World Zionist Congress, supreme Zionist governing body, which holds its biennial sessions in Vienna on August 18th.

Jewish Agency

American Zionist leaders, headed by Louis Lipsky, chairman of the Zionist Organization, are backing Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist Organization, in his efforts to have non-Zionists cooperate, through the Jewish Agency, in upbuilding Palestine. The mandate issued by the League of Nations to Great Britain provides that the development of Palestine as the Jewish Homeland shall be carried on in co-operation with the Jewish Agency which, until otherwise changed, shall consist of the World Zionist Organization.

During the past year as a result of Dr. Weizmann's leadership, steps have been taken to extend the Jewish Agency to include fifty percent non-Zionists. During his last visit to America this spring, Dr. Weizmann, in co-operation with Louis Marshall, Felix M. Warburg, Samuel Untermyer, Mr. Lipsky and other leading American Jews, launched the American branch of the Jewish Agency on this basis.

"American Plan"

Many European Zionists are strongly opposing the extension of the Jewish Agency, which they call the "American Plan," and efforts will be made at the World Congress in Vienna to vote down the project. This opposition is expected to develop first at the American convention, where Zionist leaders will champion the program of Dr. Weizmann to have Palestine built up through the cooperation of all Jews, irrespective of their views on Zionism.

The convention this year will definitely mark the closing of the breach in American Zionist ranks which has existed since the Cleveland convention four years ago, when a group headed by Justice Louis D. Brandeis, Dr. Stephen S. Wise and Judge Julian W. Mack broke away from the organization over the establishment of the Palestine Foundation Fund. Most of the Zionists who at that time quit the organization will be present at this year's convention.

The convention will close with a pilgrimage to the tomb of Woodrow Wilson, where exercises will be held in memory of the outstanding contribution of the late President toward the furthering of the Jewish Homeland movement.

PREDICTS TWO DOLLAR WHEAT FOR 1926

A prediction of two dollar wheat before the 1925 crop is all sold was made today by P. V. Ewing, director of the Research Division of the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. This prediction of higher wheat prices is based on reports from 3640 field observers for the Foundation and a study of the available statistical information. The conclusions of the study indicating higher wheat prices are as follows: "There will be a shortage of nearly 200 million bushels in the present winter wheat crop compared with last year. The world carryover shows a decrease of nearly 150 million bushels. Spring wheat prospects are favorable, but the crop probably will decrease in condition as harvest approaches.

"According to the best estimates of production, the total wheat crop in the United States will not exceed 665 million bushels. The average domestic consumption is 665 million bushels. We cannot help but export some wheat. In addition, trade marked flour for which there is an established demand will have to be removed abroad. At least 50 and possibly 100 million bushels of wheat will be exported. This will throw us on an import basis. Canadian wheat will be called on to supply the deficiency. The 42 cent import duty should raise wheat by that amount above the world level or present price.

"If a man has good dry wheat and can hold it right on his farm, we believe that will be wanted later at considerably higher prices. In fact, we would not be surprised to see two dollar wheat before the marketing of the 1925 crop is completed."

The Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation Index for July, issued today, is optimistic as to practically all farm products. "Agriculture is tasting the first fruits of the main harvest," says the Index. "New wheat is beginning to roll to market. Barring the accidents of July and August, spring wheat promises an outturn nearly as large as last year. Another big crop of corn is in the making and present prospects look like a three million bushel yield. This feed crop may make good some of the shortage of oats, hay and pasture, the reverse of the situation a year ago, when corn was short and crops which thrived in a cool, wet season turned out bountiful yields.

The report as to various crops throughout the country is as follows:

Corn—The condition of corn is 84.3 per cent of normal. Corn which suffered from the frost of late May recovered largely. The present condition is slightly above the average.

Winter Wheat—The frost of late May and the drought and unfavorable June weather have brought the average condition down to 65.5. The straw is short, heads poorly filled and stands thin. The Hessian Fly has damaged the crop over parts of Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. Chinch bugs are reported from Illinois, Missouri, Oklahoma and Iowa. Two thirds of a crop for the entire country is indicated.

Spring Wheat—General condition of the crop is 92.9. A final yield of about 10 per cent below last year (283,000,000 bushels) is looked for.

Oats, Barley and Rye—For the entire country the condition of oats is 77.5; barley, 81, and rye 76.1. These figures are below the average. Oats and rye probably will yield a smaller crop than last year, but barley a considerably larger one.

Potatoes—The condition of the potato crop is given as 83.8. Weather conditions have been far from ideal over most of the potato growing region, and with a slightly reduced acreage, a smaller crop than last year is forecast.

Pasture and Hay—Pasture condition for the entire country has averaged 79. Hay crops have been very short and yields in many instances have been reported at half of last year's crop. Cold weather and drought have caused a partial failure in pasture and hay in many sections.

Cotton—Reports from the cotton states indicate an increased acreage, and a condition of 79.6. Texas, which produces normally more than a third of the total crop, reports a condition of 74.9. Boll Weevil is expected to cause more damage than last year.

Dairying—Taking 100 as normal, and considering feed costs, dairy cattle prices, prices of dairy products and products from dairying, the Foundation's observers give 90.9 as the figure representing the present economic status of the industry.

Index Number—The Foundation's index number for July is places at 84.2. Last month the figure was 88. The unseasonable weather, partial failure of the winter wheat crop and recent decline in wheat prices are re-

The Scene of a Farical Failure

In the history of the Civil war, Fort Fisher is best remembered perhaps because of the farical failure of a plan to capture it, made by Gen. B. F. Butler, the most maligned (whether rightly or wrongly, history has not yet determined) Union leader in the war. It might better be remembered for the brilliant attack led by Gen. Alfred H. Terry which did capture it a year later and the gallant defense made by the men in gray who held it.

In 1864 the Union leaders determined to close the port of Wilmington, N. C., the haunt of the most successful Southern blockade runners. Wilmington was guarded by Fort Fisher, which the Confederates built at one of the entrances of the Cape Fear river. It was one of the strongest forts in the South, with parapets 25 feet thick and 20 feet high, upon which were mounted 44 heavy guns. It was held by Col. W. Lamb and 1,400 men.

Late in December Admiral David Porter with a fleet of 150 vessels, the largest that had ever sailed under the American flag, appeared before the fort. Accompanying this fleet were 3,000 soldiers commanded by General Butler who was to make a land attack while Porter bombarded the fort from the sea. As a preliminary to the attack Butler conceived the idea of sending a vessel, the old steamer Louisiana, loaded with more than 200 tons of gunpowder to be exploded under its walls and dismantle its guns.

The charge was set off about 2 o'clock in the morning. It was a miserable failure, however, for the explosion not only did no damage but it is said to have scarcely disturbed the garrison. After bombarding the fort for two days, the Union forces saw that a land attack would be futile and Porter sailed away.

On January 13, 1865, another attempt was made against Fort Fisher. Again the naval attack, although it killed 200 of the fort's defenders, failed to reduce it. But the land attack led by Gen. Alfred H. Terry was more successful. His army of 8,000 succeeded in capturing the fort after one of the most brilliant assaults of the war which was resisted with equal gallantry by the Confederates. The Southern loss was 500 killed and wounded; the Union, 206 killed and 1,075 wounded and missing.

The fall of Wilmington followed the capture of Fort Fisher and the closing of that port cut off the supplies which the Confederacy had been obtaining by its blockade runners. Starvation faced the South and three months later her ragged hosts laid down their arms.

Terry which did capture it a year later and the gallant defense made by the men in gray who held it.

In 1864 the Union leaders determined to close the port of Wilmington, N. C., the haunt of the most successful Southern blockade runners. Wilmington was guarded by Fort Fisher, which the Confederates built at one of the entrances of the Cape Fear river. It was one of the strongest forts in the South, with parapets 25 feet thick and 20 feet high, upon which were mounted 44 heavy guns. It was held by Col. W. Lamb and 1,400 men.

Late in December Admiral David Porter with a fleet of 150 vessels, the largest that had ever sailed under the American flag, appeared before the fort. Accompanying this fleet were 3,000 soldiers commanded by General Butler who was to make a land attack while Porter bombarded the fort from the sea. As a preliminary to the attack Butler conceived the idea of sending a vessel, the old steamer Louisiana, loaded with more than 200 tons of gunpowder to be exploded under its walls and dismantle its guns.

The charge was set off about 2 o'clock in the morning. It was a miserable failure, however, for the explosion not only did no damage but it is said to have scarcely disturbed the garrison. After bombarding the fort for two days, the Union forces saw that a land attack would be futile and Porter sailed away.

On January 13, 1865, another attempt was made against Fort Fisher. Again the naval attack, although it killed 200 of the fort's defenders, failed to reduce it. But the land attack led by Gen. Alfred H. Terry was more successful. His army of 8,000 succeeded in capturing the fort after one of the most brilliant assaults of the war which was resisted with equal gallantry by the Confederates. The Southern loss was 500 killed and wounded; the Union, 236 killed and 1,075 wounded and missing.

The fall of Wilmington followed the capture of Fort Fisher and the closing of that port cut off the supplies which the Confederacy had been obtaining by its blockade runners. Starvation faced the South and three months later her ragged hosts laid down their arms.

Real Play is Now Screened at Lyceum

A very entertaining story, told in convincing and artistic manner, was unfolded on the screen yesterday at the Lyceum Theatre, when "K—The Unknown," starring Virginia Valli, was given its initial performance, and which will be shown again tonight.

The pictureplay was adapted from the famous novel by Mary Roberts Rinehart, "K," which not only was read by many thousands of persons, but which, according to all evidence, is justly entitled to that well-known characterization, "a human document."

"Home Manager--- Purchasing Agent--- Art Director---Wife"

Just a slim girl, maybe, or a motherly woman with sweet eyes and white hair—but what a responsibility is hers!

She is the active partner in the business of running a home. She buys most of the things which go to make home life happy, healthful and beautiful. Through her slim, safe fingers goes most of the family money.

And wisely and well it is usually spent too—far better than the average man could spend it himself. For women are better purchasing agents than men. They compare prices, weigh values and shop carefully.

They read advertisements regularly. Every day you'll find the wise little home manager searching the advertising columns for news that will add to the comfort, convenience and improvement of her home. You will find the same clever purchasing agent studying the advertisements to find where and when to buy, and what and how to buy most economically. The advertisements, too, tell this responsive art director how she can make her home more beautiful, more individual—the kind of home than a man appreciates but never knows how it is done!

Advertisements are the wise counsellors in the spending of money that the clever housewife heeds daily.

M. & I. GETS CROSSING DATA

Preparation to Enforcement of Requiring Full Stop of All Vehicles Nearing Marked Crossings

FACTORS INDICATING DANGER

Sharp Curves and Obscure View of Tracks Make Necessary Utmost Caution

In compliance with orders from the safety division of the Minnesota Railway and Warehouse Commission, the Minnesota & International Railway is preparing data on its grade crossings, preparatory to the enforcement of regulations requiring a full stop by all vehicles approaching dangerous crossings.

Each railway is required to submit data concerning the crossings of highways on its lines, and from this data the commission will decide which crossings shall, from their dangerous situations, be designated as among those at which vehicles must stop.

The principal factors that will determine the degree of danger at these crossings will include sharp curves, either in the railway tracks or in the highway in the vicinity of the crossing, and the view of the tracks in each direction obtainable by those approaching from either side of the crossing.

It is felt that crossings which will be included in the category of dangerous ones, in the vicinity of Brainerd will be the one near Woodrow, on Trunk Highway No. 2, where several accidents have already occurred; the crossing near the old N. P. hospital site in West Brainerd, and the one across the M. & I. tracks on Trunk Highway No. 2 west of the city.

There is a "cut" on each side of the Woodrow crossing making it nearly impossible to see trains coming from either direction. The state highway department has recognized this danger and has divided the traffic at this point, requiring vehicles to slow down before they can negotiate the crossing.

Trains approaching the crossing in West Brainerd from the river bridge cannot be seen by vehicle traffic until within a few rods of the intersection of highway and railroad, and a curve in the M. & I. tracks to the south of their crossing of Trunk Highway No. 2 makes that intersection dangerous.

Two dangerous railway crossings near the village of Crow Wing, on Trunk Highway No. 27 will be eliminated in the re-routing of that highway, which will follow the west side of the Northern Pacific tracks from Little Falls to Brainerd.

KAPPA DELPHIANS

Closing Program of Year Held at Home of Mrs. C. D. McKay

Last evening the Kappa Delphian chapter held its closing program for the year at the home of Mrs. C. D. McKay.

Mrs. S. S. Newman, as leader, with the assistance of members covered the twelve text reports dealing with the "Age of Chivalry" very thoroughly. Every meeting shows power gained by those who have taken the time for study. The members have learned to take criticism from each other without embarrassment. This alone is worth the price of tuition.

To those friends of members of this chapter a word of explanation is due. The Delphian chapter has guest privileges, but owing to the temerity of the speakers the local chapter has never held an open meeting. It is not an easy task for a man to step out on a platform and make a speech, much less easy for a woman. But every civic movement needs speakers.

A very interesting letter from Miss Mary Scott, former president, was read and its tone of encouragement appreciated by those whose labors have kept the idea of higher education, personal improvement and social progress alive in the local chapter.

Next year the club plans to begin its work earlier and holds its meetings every two weeks. If there are any ladies in Brainerd who wish to join the present group or organize a separate chapter confer with Mrs. C. D. McKay, membership secretary, or Mrs. Walter Murphy, vice-president, or any of the members as to the advantages or disadvantages of membership in the nation wide Delphian movement.

Mr. McKay with the assistance of Viola served light refreshments. And the chapter closed with a very thoughtful repetition of the motto: "To have, is to share. When we cease to share, we cease to have."

They received many high compliments upon their playing last evening.

The Arcadian orchestra has been secured for the dance which will begin at 9 o'clock in the park pavilion. The public is invited and urged to attend both the concert and dance. The money realized from this dance will be used by the band in meeting its summer expenses.

ENVIABLE RECORD MADE BY CITY

Not a Single Fire Alarm Turned in During Month of June

FIRST MONTH OF KIND IN YEARS

In 1913 the City Had 2 Months, July and August, With no Fire Alarms

Brainerd made an enviable record during the month of June, in that not one fire alarm was turned in during that month.

This is the first time since 1913 that a month has passed without the fire department receiving calls. During the year 1913 an even better record was made, the months of July and August of that year passing without a single fire alarm.

One cause for the absence of fires during the past month is given as being due to the fact that there has been a great deal of rain during June, eliminating the dangers of grass fires throughout the city.

The fire department asks the cooperation of the public in continuing the record of no fires throughout the month of July.

The next two periods of ten days each are restricted to girls and the enrollment is already completed.

There have been many hours of fun for the boys in connection with their Scout activities. The crowning events for each period were the snipe and pie hunts. There have also been treasure hunts and games of hostile spy, which give the boys a varied program of activities, and each boy who has attended camp has been highly pleased with his ten day outing.

Camp is under the management of the Crow Wing Council Boy Scouts of America.

MICKEY SHOTS AT SECOND TITLE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, July 1.—Mickey Walker, the world's welterweight champion, may not be the greatest fighter in the ring today, but he is certainly the most ambitious.

The stocky little Jersey Mick has laid out for himself a program that calls for the winning of three world's titles. He meets Harry Greb, the middleweight champion, tomorrow night at the Polo Grounds. After that bout, which he seems confident will result in a victory for him, he is going gunning for Paul Berlenbach's light heavyweight championship.

His fight with Greb was sanctioned by the New York Boxing Commission after he had signed a contract to meet Dave Shade, the challenger for his welterweight championship, in Los Angeles on July 21, and unless he lives up to his agreement he will not be allowed to fight Benny Leonard or Berlenbach in New York. Either one of these matches is a New York fight as no other city could afford to pay the money they would cost.

There seems to be an opinion that the astute Jack Kearns, who is now handling Walker's business will find some way out of the Shade fight, but the New York commission has been pestering Kearns so much that it will be laying for him for any of the clever arrangements that Kearns might conceive. There was a trick riding in the contract for the Walker-Shade match providing that one of the fighters could call off the match if the other came in overweight. It has been believed generally for more than a year that Shade could not make the welterweight limit and that he would rather fight Walker as a middleweight. Regardless of the outcome of tomorrow night's fight, Shade will have to make the welterweight limit, but if Walker should beat Greb and become the middleweight champion, Shade could take both titles by a decision over Walker.

Taking Greb, Shade, Leonard and Berlenbach in a row is an assignment that no other manager but Kearns would undertake. The Leonard match, of course, has not been made yet, but it is generally believed that the retired light heavyweight champion will announce soon that his mother has given him permission to engage in one more contest and a bout with Walker would be the only one worth any money to him.

When Kearns lost Dempsey, assuming that stories are correct that the two Jacks have split up or that Dempsey never will fight again, he looked around for the next best money winner in the ring, and he landed Walker, the only active champion on the list.

With the four bouts that he has in the making, Walker not only stands to make a small fortune in one season but he has the chance to make himself one of the greatest drawing cards that the ring ever has known.

Against Greb and Shade, Walker is taking very little chances as neither of them can punch hard enough to place him in danger. Leonard had a good kick in his prime but he has been out of the ring so long he must be rusty from inactivity. No comment will be made on Berlenbach until the match is made and it can't be made unless Walker makes a sensational showing in his other fights.

George Engle, one of the smartest managers in boxing, who used to handle Greb, says that the middleweight champion will make a monkey out of Walker. Engle has no personal reason to boost Greb as they parted with bad feelings and there is no lost love now between them. Engle is a good judge. He was perhaps the only critic to predict that Gene Tunney would knock out Tom Gibbons. Engle was in Greb's corner the night he took a decision from Gibbons under almost the same circumstances.

Walker will make a lot of money under the management of Kearns as he seems game enough to take any kind of a chance and Kearns, even though he did pursue safety first tactics at times with Dempsey, is willing to take a big shot when the money is right.

Kearns had to carry Dempsey past the annoyance of Harry Wills, although smart boxing men have been of the opinion for three years that Dempsey would have a cinch fight against the Negro challenger. There are small chances, however, that Walker will be annoyed. If he gets past Shade, and there are no good reasons to believe that he will not, he will be alone in his class as there are no other welterweights to cause him any alarm.

18—The Swing.

Close observations of experts and moving pictures of the same golfers show the fallacy of another dictum of older golfers—that the club goes backward and forward in the same arc. Exactly what happens is that the club goes up and comes to the slightest pause at the top of the back swing. There then is a lifting of the club head by the first action of the wrists and that lifting motion carries the club head around a half-pin curve outward, making the descending arc longer than the ascending one.

That is exactly as it should be, for it brings about a further flattening of the swing at the bottom, just before it hits the ball. Of course this difference is a slight one or it would have been noticed hundreds of years before moving pictures proved it. The moving pictures also show that, with the one exception of cut shots, the movement of the club head is straight along the ground, barely grazing it, for inches behind the ball. In the case of cut shots, where the imparting of back spin is essential, the movement of the club practically is the same but the club comes down on the ball straighter simply because the ball is more nearly opposite the middle of the feet instead of further forward. In its natural course the arc of the club head would flatten but the ball is hit just before the flattening begins.

What the player should see for himself is that the club head starts straight back from the ball on the line of flight and stays as low as possible until it is lifted by the movement of the arms and wrists. If you have difficulty in keeping the club head low, scuff the club along the turf back of the ball in the start of the backward swing. This idea may be abandoned as soon as one learns to keep the club head low but it will do no harm unless there are bumps in the turf back of the ball. And take this for granted until you prove it in your own swing, the back swing is the crucial part. Get that correctly and many of your troubles are over. The forward swing will nearly take care of itself. And the key of the whole thing is to be certain the club head goes straight back and at right angles and as far as it will go naturally.

The headquarters of the convention will be in the auditorium of the Mound consolidated high school building. The business sessions will be held on Thursday morning and afternoon and Friday evening, the last session being given over to a large extent to motion pictures and other entertainment.

Governor Theodore Christianson is slated for an address on Thursday evening, followed by a concert to be given by the U. S. Third Infantry band. The balance of the evening will be given over to dancing.

The bait and fly casting contests will be held on Friday morning, and on that afternoon the delegates will be given a boat trip around Lake Minnetonka.

The trap shooting events will be staged at Whale Tail lake on Saturday morning. In the afternoon an exhibition shoot will be given by Dave Flannigan, followed by Archery events in charge of Howard McChesney.

The final session of the convention will be Saturday evening, when a banquet is to be tendered the delegates, at which time a program of addresses will be given and the prizes awarded.

THE Y WON AN UPHILL FIGHT FROM WORKMEN

DEFEATED THEM LAST NIGHT BY SCORE OF 10 TO 9

HEAVY STICK WORK AND THE PITCHING OF ENGBRETSON, WINNING FACTORS

The Y. M. C. A. won an uphill battle from the Workmen last night by a score of 10 to 9.

Heavy clouting by the Y. and the pitching of Engbretson, relief pitcher, brought in the win.

Anderson of the Y. clouted out three hits in four trips to the plate. The features of the game were the hitting of Anderson and the throw of Thorkildsen from right field to third base to put out Schwindeman on a fast double play.

Engbretson pitched a wonderful game. He went in in the third inning with three men on bases and nobody out, but the Workmen only made two runs in this good chance to clinch the game.

The Y. M. C. A. will play the Elks tonight.

18—The Swing.

Close observations of experts and moving pictures of the same golfers show the fallacy of another dictum of older golfers—that the club goes backward and forward in the same arc. Exactly what happens is that the club goes up and comes to the slightest pause at the top of the back swing. There then is a lifting of the club head by the first action of the wrists and that lifting motion carries the club head around a half-pin curve outward, making the descending arc longer than the ascending one.

That is exactly as it should be, for it brings about a further flattening of the swing at the bottom, just before it hits the ball. Of course this difference is a slight one or it would have been noticed hundreds of years before moving pictures proved it. The moving pictures also show that, with the one exception of cut shots, the movement of the club head is straight along the ground, barely grazing it, for inches behind the ball. In the case of cut shots, where the imparting of back spin is essential, the movement of the club practically is the same but the club comes down on the ball straighter simply because the ball is more nearly opposite the middle of the feet instead of further forward. In its natural course the arc of the club head would flatten but the ball is hit just before the flattening begins.

What the player should see for himself is that the club head starts straight back from the ball on the line of flight and stays as low as possible until it is lifted by the movement of the arms and wrists. If you have difficulty in keeping the club head low, scuff the club along the turf back of the ball in the start of the backward swing. This idea may be abandoned as soon as one learns to keep the club head low but it will do no harm unless there are bumps in the turf back of the ball. And take this for granted until you prove it in your own swing, the back swing is the crucial part. Get that correctly and many of your troubles are over. The forward swing will nearly take care of itself. And the key of the whole thing is to be certain the club head goes straight back and at right angles and as far as it will go naturally.

Honors Even

An English hostess was very proud over the elevation of one of her family to the house of lords. "This makes the second of our family in the peers," she remarked to one of her callers. "Have you any relation in the house of lords?" "No," was the calm reply, "but I have two maiden aunts in the kingdom of Heaven."—Boston Transcript.

THE Y WON AN UPHILL FIGHT FROM WORKMEN

DEFEATED THEM LAST NIGHT BY SCORE OF 10 TO 9

HEAVY STICK WORK AND THE PITCHING OF ENGBRETSON, WINNING FACTORS

The Y. M. C. A. won an uphill battle from the Workmen last night by a score of 10 to 9.

Heavy clouting by the Y. and the pitching of Engbretson, relief pitcher, brought in the win.

Anderson of the Y. clouted out three hits in four trips to the plate. The features of the game were the hitting of Anderson and the throw of Thorildson from right field to third base to put out Schwindeman on a fast double play.

Engbretson pitched a wonderful game. He went in in the third inning with three men on bases and nobody out, but the Workmen only made two runs in this good chance to clinch the game.

The Y. M. C. A. will play the Elks tonight.
